

8th Annual Good Friday Bash

2005

This year's adventure begins with a clownfish named Marlin (not a fish name Wanda – that could be another year) looking for his lost son Nemo.

Now don't worry, in the end he will find him.

Marlin's friend, Dory, (must be an angel fish) helps him in his quest to find his only surviving son. Allegedly Nemo's siblings were killed by a large shark named Bruce, the truth is probably closer to them being netted by some environmental terrorist capitalistic commercial fisherman who were exploiting the natural resources of the ocean for the obscenely gross profits of some corporate entity in the United States. All of these poor innocent little creatures of nature destroyed by BIG FISH!!

The loving, noble and much maligned shark was merely cruising around the area looking for its morning breakfast and was simply in the wrong place at the wrong time. Bruce is the real victim in this tale. BIG FISH paints him as the villain in order that they may continue to plunder the bounty of the ocean in their senseless slaughter of fish-Americans.

At the end of the story you will see that Marlin has found his beloved son Nemo, who is the guest of honor at BASH 2005.

This year the BASH is again being hosted by the Emanuel's in Hanover (Minnesota, not North Dakota.) Here is the address: 11364 Crow Hassan Park Rd, Hanover, MN 55341. As usual the festivities will begin about 6:30ish and will include Fish, the world famous "Everything but the kitchen sink" seafood chowder, the ever popular tuna salad, stuff to go with fish, and other stuff.

As Always, please RSVP to Al at thealdavis@hotmail.com, or call at 763-234-7467. The only invitations being sent this year are by E-mail, except for Steve Decker, who will get his by USPS since he is too busy to read his email.
