

IT'S BACK!

Legend tells of an event which once took place annually on Good Friday. This event was so ribald, so outlandish, and so insane, that it became known as the "EIGHTH ANNUAL GOOD FRIDAY BASH". And now all a brief hiatus, the "EIGHTH ANNUAL GOOD FRIDAY BASH" has returned, and you are invited!

Although your winter has been filled with dreams and expectations of Ed McMahon delivering an envelope to your door you the richest person since God, it obviously hasn't happened or you wouldn't still have an address here in Minnesota. So, this flier contains the next best thing, -- an invitation to the "EIGHTH ANNUAL GOOD FRIDAY BASH".

Of course, being the skeptic that you are, you are sitting comfortably in your living room right now ' to yourself, "And what do I have to do to avail myself of this event?"

Well Vern, the answer to that question is simple, so simple that the instructions can be written in BIG print and included on this one page - and here they are.

1. R.S.V.P this invitation no later than Monday, April 10, 1995, either by returning the enclosed cut me off to Al Davis at the address below, or phone me at 424-5315.
2. Show up!

Yes, it's just that simple. And now your asking' yourself "Well, what's in it for me?" –

A menu consisting of:

- a. Catch of the day (Of course its fish, it is Good Friday's And notice there is no guarantee that it is "Fresh Catch" of the Day.
- b. "Everything But The Kitchen Sink" Seafood Chowder
- c. Munchies and Vegetarian things
- d. World Famous Fish House Punch. Have some of item B. and C. in your stomach before trying Item D

O.K., So where does this event happen? At Al Davis' current residence 7809 - 82nd Avenue North Brooklyn Park (subject to change). At 6:30 P.M., you can come earlier, but be prepared to vacuum, clean windows, or scrub the toilet. If you show up after 7:00 P.M., you just have to scrub the toilet because I'm assuming no one will show up early, and it still has to be done.
